GENERAL RULES AND REGULATIONS

A. Application

The rules and regulations specified herein are in addition to those contained in the schedules in Parts 4, 5 and 6. They apply to the intrastate interexchange telecommunications services between points within Alaska which are furnished by Copper Valley Long Distance, Inc., hereinafter referred to as CVLD or Company. Failure on the part of the subscriber to observe these rules and regulations of the Company, after due notice of such failure, automatically gives the Company the privilege to discontinue the furnishing of service.

In the event of a conflict between any rate, rule, regulation or provision contained in these General Rules and Regulations, and any rate, rule, regulation or provision contained in the schedules in Parts 4, 5 and 6, the rate, rule, regulation or provision contained in the specific schedules shall prevail.

B. Explanation of Symbols

- (C) Denotes a changed condition or regulation.
- (D) Denotes a discontinued rate, regulation or condition.
- (I) Denotes an increased rate or new treatment resulting in increased rate.
- (L) Denotes material has been relocated from one sheet to another with no change in text, rule, rate or condition.
- (N) Denotes a new rate, treatment or regulation.
- (R) Denotes a reduced rate or new treatment resulting in reduced rates.
- (S) Denotes reissued material.
- (T) Denotes a change in text for clarification, but no change in rate, treatment or regulation.

C. Payment Arrangements

1. Establishment of Credit - General

Each applicant for service, whether the applicant is a new applicant or an applicant that is re-establishing credit, may be required to establish or re-establish credit before service is provided. When the applicant's credit is satisfactory to the Company, no deposit will be required. If an applicant's credit is not satisfactory, an advance payment or deposit will be required.

The Company is not obligated to furnish telephone service to an individual or firm that has an outstanding delinquent balance for telephone service (residential or business) previously rendered at the same or different address, unless arrangements have been made to liquidate such indebtedness to the Company.

2. Establishment of Credit - New Applicants

Applicants for service who have no previous account with the Company may establish credit by supplying credit references acceptable to the Company. The Company might not require a deposit when the supplied credit references are acceptable.

Applicants who are unable to furnish acceptable credit references may be required to make advance payments or place a deposit with the Company.

3. Re-Establishment of Credit

A customer who fails to pay a bill for service may be required to bring the account current and re-establish credit by making a deposit.

The Company may require an existing customer to make a deposit or increase a deposit if increase usage warrants such action or if the customer's payment record is unsatisfactory.

3. Re-Establishment of Credit (Continued)

- a. The fact that a deposit has been made shall in no way relieve the applicant or customer from complying with the Company's requirements as to the prompt payment of bills on presentation nor constitute a waiver or modification of the regular practices of the Company providing for the discontinuance of service for non-payment of any sums due the Company for service rendered.
- b. The Company may discontinue service to any customer failing to pay bills without regard to the fact that such customer has made a deposit with the Company to secure payment of such bills or has furnished the Company with the guarantee in writing of such bills.

4. Unpaid Account

The Company shall not be required to provide service to an applicant who has not paid for prior service rendered by the Company in the same or different location and furnished to the same person or legal entity. The Company shall not be required to furnish service when applied for in the name of another person or legal entity, or a fictitious name or other member of the same household, for the purpose of avoiding payment of an unpaid obligation for the service previously furnished.

5. Deposits

The Company may, in order to safeguard its interests, require an applicant or customer to make a deposit to be held by the Company as a guarantee of the payment of charges. Such deposit will be the equivalent of up to two (2) months estimated charges for the service provided.

a. Refund of Deposit

When service is terminated, any balance of the deposit remaining after the deduction of all sums due the Company will be returned to the customer within sixty days after the discontinuance of service. At the option of the Company such a deposit may be refunded or credited to the customer at any time prior to the termination of service. In no event will the Company retain a customer's deposit longer than two (2) years, providing that in the interim the Company has not been forced to disconnect that customer's service for reasons of delinquency in payment of charges, and that the customer has not been delinquent in payment more than once in any twelve (12) consecutive months. Interest on customer deposits of $100 or greater for recurring monthly service will be paid at the legal rate at the time the deposit is refunded; alternatively, if the deposit is placed in an interest bearing account, the Company will pay the interest rate of the interest bearing account.

6. Rendition of Bills

Regular bills will be mailed on or before the first day of the month. Bills are dated for the first day of the month and due on the last day of the month in which they are dated. An additional 10 days will be granted prior to termination of service by the Company.

Monthly recurring charges and non-recurring charges are billed to the customer monthly in arrears. When, in its opinion, the Company feels that excessive or unusual use of long distance service is occurring, it may demand immediate payment for such service and/or require the customer to increase existing deposits, post a surety bond, or terminate the service.

The bill will be considered as rendered when postmarked by a U.S. Post Office, addressed to the addresses at which service is or was last being rendered, or to another mailing address as specified by the customer.

In those instances where billing and collection services are being provided to the Company by a local exchange carrier (LEC) pursuant to contract, the individual LEC's billing and collection rules, terms and conditions as described in the LEC's currently effective tariff shall govern the toll billing services rendered on behalf of the Company.

Toll charges are considered binding unless objection is received within 60 days after presentation.

7. Payment for Services

The customer is responsible for payment of all charges for services furnished, including charges for services originated, or charges accepted, at the customer's station, including local, state and federal taxes. This includes payment for Message Telephone Service (MTS) calls or services:

- a. Originated at the customer's number(s);
- b. Accepted at the customer's number(s) (e.g. collect calls);
- c. Legitimately billed to the customer's number via third number billing;
- d. Use of a Company assigned special billing number; or,
- e. Incurred at the specific request of the customer.

Payment of bills for telephone service shall be made by mail or to a duly authorized collector of the Company. All charges are payable in lawful money of the United States only.

Any deposit for re-establishment of service is payable before service is restored.

8. Disputed Bills

In the event of a dispute involving a customer's bill, the customer's service shall not be disconnected for non-payment of that portion of the bill under dispute pending an investigation by the Company. If the Company determines, following such an investigation, that service has been provided to the customer pursuant to Company tariff, and the Company has provided the customer with available substantiating information and the dispute remains unresolved, the Company may then disconnect the service. If the dispute is not resolved to the customer's satisfaction, the Company will notify the customer that a complaint may be filed with the Alaska Public Utilities Commission under 3 AAC 48.120 or 3 AAC 48.130 and will provide the customer with the telephone number and address of the Commission. Upon the Commission's request, telephone service will not be suspended or disconnected because of an amount involved in a complaint which is before the Commission.

9. Returned Checks

When a customer's payment check is returned to the Company by the bank on whose account the check was written, a $25 charge will be assessed to the customer for costs incurred by the Company. The Company will attempt to make personal contact with the customer by telephone. Returned checks may result in immediate suspension of service without further notification.

D. Denial and Restoration Service

DTL

1. Right to Deny Service

The right to deny service for cause, as contained in this tariff, may be exercised whenever and as often as the cause occurs. Neither delay nor omission on the part of the Company in enforcing this rule at any time will constitute waiver of the Company's right to enforce this rule at another time as long as legitimate cause exists to deny service.

2. Temporary Disconnect

Service which has been denied in accordance with the above rules and regulations will be classified by the Company as a temporary disconnect.

3. Termination of Service for Cause

a. Non-Payment

Monthly bills shall be considered past due if they are not paid by the last day of the month in which they are dated or after any payment date previously established by agreement between a customer and the Company. Written notice, bringing the matter to the attention of the customer, will be mailed immediately after the bill is considered past due. If payment is not received within 10 days of the written notice, the Company may deny service without further notice.

4. Restoration of Service

When service has been denied in accordance with these rules and regulations and is temporarily disconnected, it may be restored when the cause of the denial has been corrected.

a. Service Restoration Time Frame

When the cause of the denial has been corrected after service has been temporarily disconnected, the service will be restored not later than 24 hours after the Company has confirmed that the cause of the denial has been corrected excepting weekends and designated Company holidays.

b. Correction of Cause

When service has been denied or is about to be denied for the reasons listed below, it can be corrected as follows:

(1) Non-Payment of Delinquent Balance

All outstanding charges, delinquent or billed, must be paid in full or satisfactory arrangements must be made with the Company to pay the charges.

MESSAGE TELEPHONE SERVICE

A. Undertaking of the Company

1. Scope

Message telephone service is a service provided between two stations which are not in the same local calling area. Terminating and originating message telephone services are available statewide where the Company has made arrangements to provide service.

The Company does not undertake to transmit messages but furnishes the use of its facilities to its customers for communications.

2. Limitations on Duration of Connections

The Company reserves the right to limit the duration of connection when necessary because of a shortage of facilities caused by emergency conditions.

3. Priority Services

The use and restoration of service shall be in accordance with Part 64, Subpart D of the Federal Communications Commission's Rules and Regulations, which specifies the priority system for such activities.

Subject to compliance with the rules mentioned above, when a shortage of facilities exists at any time whether for temporary or protracted periods, the establishment of message telecommunications service shall take precedence over all other service.

4. Liability

In view of the fact that the customer has exclusive control of its communications over the facilities furnished by the Company, and of the other uses for which facilities may be furnished by the Company, and because of unavailability of errors incident to the services and to the use of such facilities of the Company, the services and facilities furnished by the Company are subject to the terms, conditions and limitations specified as follows:

- a. The liability of the Company for damages arising out of mistakes, omissions, interruptions, delays, errors or defects in transmission, or failures or defects in facilities furnished by the Company, occurring in the course of furnishing service or other facilities and not caused by the negligence of the customer, or negligence of the Company, shall in no event exceed an amount equivalent to the proportionate charge to the customer for the period of service during which such mistake, omission, interruption, delay or error or defect in transmission, or failure or defect in facilities occurs.

5. Responsibility of the Company

The Company shall not be responsible for the installation, operation or maintenance of the customer-provided equipment. When such equipment is connected to Company facilities, the responsibility of the Company shall be limited to the furnishing of facilities suitable for message telephone service and to the maintenance and operation of such facilities in a manner proper for such telephone service subject to this responsibility. The Company shall not be responsible for (a) the transmission of signals generated by the customer-provided equipment or for the quality of, or defects in, such transmission, or (b) the reception of signals by customer-provided equipment.

The Company shall not be responsible if changes in any of the facilities, operations or procedures of the Company render any customer-provided equipment obsolete or require modification or alteration of such equipment or otherwise affect its use or performance.

When a rate involves a fraction of a cent, the fraction is carried through the computation of the charge for the service. When the charge so computed includes a fraction of a cent, a fraction of less than one-half cent is disregarded and a fraction of one-half cent or more is treated as one cent.

5. Directory Assistance Charges

MTS customers will receive two 1-907-555-1212 Directory Assistance calls per billing period free of charge. Additional directory assistance calls will be billed at the rates and charges specified below. MTS customers who place 1-907-555-1212 Directory Assistance calls by accessing Company's network directory or through 1-800 Access or 950 Access will be billed by the Company at the rate as specified below. Surcharges applied to 1-800 Access and 950 Access as specified in this tariff will not apply to 555-1212 Directory Assistance calls.

6. Rates Applicable for Hearing or Speech Impaired Persons (Continued)

a. Application

Persons having a hearing or speech impairment which precludes oral communications and who have and use a text telephone will receive an adjustment on customer dialed station calls which do not require the intervention of an operator. The adjustment is applied to the appropriate rate schedules according to the following:

- (1) Dial Station Calls placed during the Day rate period will be rated at Dial Station Basic Evening rates.
- (2) Dial Station Calls placed during the Evening rate period will be rated at the Dial Station Basic Night/Weekend rates.
- (3) If the customer is on a calling plan, the calling plan's rates prevail.

b. Limitations

The adjustment is provided for use only to the speech or hearing impaired customer. It is only applicable to MTS charges for calls originating from and billed to the local exchange service number of the residence of the certified speech or hearing impaired person. Only one local exchange service number at a residence is authorized this rate adjustment.

1. Class of Service

For the purposes of rate application, one of four classes of service may apply to a Message Telephone Service call. These classes of service are Dial Station, Operator Station, and Person-to-Person. Each class of service and its specific regulations follow. D

a. Dial Station

Dial Station rates apply when the person originating the call dials the telephone number desired and completes the call without the assistance of an operator, and the call is billed to the calling station. This call occurs when:

- (1) A call is forwarded by call forwarding equipment.
- (2) A Company operator reaches the called station because the calling party could not complete the call due to trouble on the telecommunications network.
- (3) A Company operator places a call for a calling party who identifies himself as being disabled and unable to dial the call because of his/her disability.
- (4) A Company operator re-establishes a Dial Station call that has been involuntarily interrupted after the called station has been reached.

Person-to-Person rates apply when the person originating the call specifies the particular party to be reached by the Company operator. That party may be:

- (1) A person; or
- (2) A station, department, extension or office through a PBX attendant.

After the called station has been reached, if the called party is unavailable and the calling party requests or agrees to speak to a party other than the party initially specified, the call is still billed as a Person-to-Person call. The calling party is responsible for identifying the party at the called station.

The Person-to-Person rates also apply when the calling party requests a Company operator to make arrangements with a called party to establish a call at a specified time or to arrange for messenger service.

The Person-to-Person rate also applies to each call to or from a teleconference bridge when a customer elects to have a teleconference established with operator assistance.

2. Determining the Chargeable Time of a Call

The chargeable time for an MTS call is determined by the duration of the call. Chargeable time includes the initial period plus the additional time involved, if any, and is determined as follows:

- a. On all calls other than person-to-person, chargeable time begins when connection is established between the calling station and the called station, PBX, or a mobile radio system for Public Land Mobile Service, Coastal Harbor Service, VHF Service, or Air-Ground Service.
- b. On person-to-person calls, chargeable time begins when connection is established between the calling person and a specified person, station, department, office, or an agreed-upon alternate.
- c. Chargeable time ends when the calling station "hangs up". If the called station "hangs up" but the calling station does not, chargeable time ends when the connection is released by automatic timing equipment in the network.
- d. When MTS is directly connected to a customer-provided communications system at a customer's or user's premises, chargeable time for all classes of service begins when an MTS call terminates in, or passes through, the first customer equipment on the customer-provided communications system. It is the customer's responsibility to furnish appropriate answer supervision to the point of interface with the MTS so that chargeable time may begin.

H. Conference Calls

1. Description

Conference service is the furnishing of long distance MTS for telecommunications between a calling station and two or more called stations. In addition to the regulations for long distance MTS, the following regulations also apply to conference services.

2. On Demand Conference Calling

On Demand Conference Calling will allow residential or business customers to arrange for multiple parties in different locations, to participate in telephone conference calls. On Demand Conference Calling is available any time, day or night, without coordinating a reservation or requiring operator assistance. This service offers the ability to have a conference call with up to 24 participants.

D N

No special equipment or connections are required. A subscriber to On Demand Conference Calling must make arrangements with the Copper Valley Telephone Cooperative, Inc. to obtain a local and a toll free dial-in number as well as an access code unique to the customer. To schedule a conference call, a customer provides the date, time, dial-in number and access code to the invited participants and all parties involved dial in at the appointed time. No special equipment or connections are required.

D

A one-time service order charge will be billed to the customer for subscribing to On Demand Conference Calling service. The customer will also be billed a monthly recurring charge and a charge for actual minutes used. Monthly charges will be calculated based upon the On Demand Conference Calling package pre-selected by the customer. Minutes of use will be calculated for each calling party on the conference call on a per minute basis for use of the service. Usage will be rounded up to the nearest minute at the termination of the conference call.

PRIVATE LINE SERVICE

A. Definitions

Certain terms used generally for private line services of this Company are defined below.

Authorized User: The term "authorized user" denotes a person, firm or corporation who is authorized by the customer to be connected to the service of the customer. An authorized user must be specifically named in the application for service and a station of the private line service must be located on the premises.

Channel: The term "channel" denotes a path (or paths) for electrical communication between two or more stations furnished in such manner as the Company may elect, whether by wire, radio, satellite or a combination thereof and whether or not by means of a single physical facility or route.

Customer: The term "customer" denotes the person who or the firm or corporation which orders service and is responsible for the payment of charges and compliance with the Company's regulations.

B. Rules and Regulations

1. Undertaking of the Company

a. Scope

Private line service is the furnishing of facilities to the customer for communication between specified locations.

b. Limitations

The use and restoration of private line services during emergency conditions shall be in accordance with Part 64, Subpart D, Appendix A, of the Federal Communications Commission's Rules and Regulations, which specifies the priority system for such services, subject to the requirements in order to provide priority restorations of public communication facilities.

Private line service may be limited in order to comply with orders issued under the wartime authority of the President of the United States.

c. Provision of Facilities

(1) On a given private line, terminal equipment may be provided by the customer according to the following terms;

(a) Equipment furnished by the customer shall be so constructed, maintained and operated as to work satisfactorily with the facilities of the Company.

(b) When a private line is used for data transmission, the customer shall be responsible for ordering and specifying the type of channel, the conditioning, and the data terminal subset for operation with his data processing equipment. The undertaking of the Company is to furnish the channels and the conditioning as ordered and specified by the customer.

(c) All station equipment and station wiring required for use in connection with program transmission service, other than any equipment necessary for the suitable termination of channel facilities on the customer's premises, shall be provided by the customer.

(2) Local channel facilities within a city or town which are required to extend private line service from interexchange channel terminals to the customer's premises are normally furnished to the customer by a local exchange carrier. The Company does not undertake to furnish such local channels when adequate facilities of a local exchange carrier are available for the customer's use. The availability and adequacy of local channel facilities will be determined by the Company, and if local channels are required from a local exchange carrier, such facilities will be arranged for by the Company as the customer's agent for this purpose, and such charges shall be included in the customer's bill from the company on a pass-through basis.

(3) The Company undertakes to maintain the facilities which it furnishes to the customer. The customer, or an authorized user, may not rearrange, disconnect, remove or attempt to repair or permit others to rearrange, disconnect, remove or attempt to repair facilities of the Company except upon the written consent of the Company or in an emergency such as a fire or flood.

(4) When facilities of the customer or of others are used with or connected to facilities furnished by the Company, such use or connection is subject to the conditions set forth in (a), (b) and (c) following.

(a) The magnitude and the character of the voltages and currents impressed on the Company service by the equipment and wiring and the operation and maintenance of such equipment and wiring shall be such as not to interfere with any of the services offered by the Company or interfere with others. The characteristics of the apparatus shall be such that its connection to the Company service does not interfere with service over other Company circuits or channels.

In cases in which additional protective equipment is required, this shall be provided by the customer or by the Company at the customer's expense. Such equipment shall be suitable to avoid hazard of damage to Company plant or of injury to Company employees or to the public because of the character or location of apparatus and of sources of power to which it is connected.

(4) (Continued)

(b) The Company may, upon suitable notification to the customer, make such tests and inspections as may be necessary to determine that the above requirements are being complied with in the installation, operation, and maintenance of equipment. The Company may interrupt the service if at any time such action should become necessary in order to protect any of its services because of departure from these requirements.

(c) The Company's responsibility is limited to providing and maintaining satisfactory transmission over the facilities it furnishes. The Company reserves the right to determine routing of all interexchange channels provided on its facilities.

When a customer requests specific routing, and facilities are available, additional charges apply and will be developed on an individual case basis. Similarly, when facilities are not available, a construction charge will be developed on an individual case basis.

a. Minimum and Fractional Rates and Charges

The minimum period for which service is furnished is one (1) month. When service does not begin on the first day of a monthly billing period, or end on the last day of a monthly billing period, the charge for the fractional part of the monthly billing period during which service is furnished will be a proportionate part of the monthly charge based on the ratio of the number of days in such beginning or concluding fractional monthly billing period to 30 days. For example, the pro rata billing for a partial monthly billing period from January 22 through January 31 is ten-thirtieths or one-third of the monthly charge. For this purpose every monthly billing period is considered to have 30 days.

If a customer receives a volume discount as described in B. 4. g. of this tariff and either adds to or reduces the number of private line services they subscribe to sufficiently to effect a change in the allowable discount, the monthly billing will be pro rated accordingly. For example, a customer that subscribes to 14 DS1s and adds 1 DS1 on the 20th of the month will be entitled to a 10% discount for 14 DS1s for 20 days and a 15% discount for 15 DS1s for 10 days.

C. Channels

1. General

Channels furnished to customers for private line services are classified by types. The various types are described in terms of circuit characteristics and use.

2. Mileage Measurements

a. Two-Point Service

Interexchange channel mileage for two-point service is the airline distance measured or computed directly between the service points or to a point of connection with other line facilities. Distances of any fraction of a mile are considered as the next whole mile.

b. Multi-Point Service

The interexchange channel mileage for multi-point service is that combination of airline distances connecting the service points or points of connection with other line facilities which will produce the lowest total interexchange channel mileage. When the customer requests that the points be connected in a specified sequence, the interexchange mileage is the shortest airline mileage determined in accordance with Part 2 - General Rules and Regulations, Section C. e. Digital Channel Service – DS1

1. General

1.544 Mbps Private Line Service utilizes interexchange and local channels furnished by the Company for the simultaneous two-way transmission of digital signals at a transmission speed of 1.544 Mbps.

1.544 Mbps Private Line Service is furnished on a monthly basis, on a two-point basis between specified locations.

2. Regulations

In addition to the Rules and Regulations preceding, the following apply to 1.544 Mbps Private Line Service.

a. Provision of Channel Service Unit Functionality

The Customer is responsible for providing Channel Service Unit Functionality at each station on a Customer's premises.

b. Connections - General

At the Customer's option, terminal equipment and communications systems provided by others may be connected to a 1.544 Mbps Private Line Service access line.

In such cases, the local exchange company will furnish and maintain its channels and equipment in a manner suitable for the 1.544 Mbps Private Line Service being furnished. The Company is not responsible for the quality of, or defects in, through transmission over the connected assembly.

b. Connections – General (Continued)

When a Customer elects to connect equipment or systems provided by others to a 1.544 Mbps Private Line Service access line, it assumes responsibility for:

(1) Compatibility with 1.544 Mbps Private Line Service - The Customer is responsible for assuring the compatibility of Customer-provided equipment or systems with 1.544 Mbps Private Line Service. This responsibility applies at the initial installation and on a continuing basis as long as the connection is made. The Company may at the Company's discretion alter or modify the service it furnishes because of additions or changes to equipment or systems provided by others, on a time and materials basis.

(2) Testing and Maintenance - If an interruption or impairment occurs on an 1.544 Mbps Private Line Service and non-Company-provided equipment or systems are used, the Customer must determine whether the fault is in, (1) the connected system or equipment, or (2) the Company provided service. The Company will test and maintain only the service that it provides.

c. Hours of Service

T

The 1.544 Mbps Private Line Service network is available for use 24 hours a day, 7 days a week.

d. Credit Allowance

A credit allowance will be given when service is interrupted, except as specified in B. Rules and Regulations, 4. Payment Arrangements and Credit Allowances, f. Allowance for Service Interruption. An interruption period begins when the Customer reports the interruption and releases the service for testing and repair. An interruption period ends when the service is operative. If the Customer reports service to be inoperative but declines to release it for testing and repair, it is considered to be impaired, but not interrupted.

When 1.544 Mbps Private Line Service is interrupted, the Customer will receive a credit allowance for that portion of the service provided by the Company which is affected.

e. Termination Charge

N

If the Customer chooses a term agreement and the term agreement is cancelled prior to the end of the period, a termination charge will apply. The termination charge will be the difference between the rates actually charged and the rates that would have been charged, had the actual period been the original service period. For example, if a Customer chooses a three-year term and completes less than three years, the Customer will be charged the difference between the amount the Customer was actually charged and the amount the Customer would have been charged according to the month to month rates for the period of time it had service. If a Customer chooses a five-year term and completes less than three years, the Customer will be charged the month to month rate. If the Customer completes at least three years of its five-year term before it terminates services, the termination charge will be the difference between the rates it was charged and the three year rates for the period of time it had service.

If the Customer chooses a term agreement and the term agreement is cancelled prior to the end of the period, a termination charge will apply. The termination charge will be the difference between the rates actually charged and the rates that would have been charged, had the actual period been the original service period. For example, if a Customer chooses a three-year term and completes less than three years, the Customer will be charged the difference between the amount the Customer was actually charged and the amount the Customer would have been charged according to the month to month rates for the period of time it had service. If a Customer chooses a five-year term and completes less than three years, the Customer will be charged the month to month rate. If the Customer completes at least three years of its five year term before it terminates services, the termination charge will be the difference between the rates it was charged and the three year rates for the period of time it had service.

2. Regulations

In addition to the preceding Rules and Regulations, Section B, the following apply to Ethernet Transport Service.

a. Credit Allowance

A credit allowance will be given when service is interrupted, except as specified in B. Rules and Regulations, 4. Payment Arrangements and Credit Allowances, f. Allowance for Service Interruption. An interruption period begins when the Customer reports the interruption and releases the service for testing and repair. An interruption period ends when the service is operative.

a. Credit Allowance (continued)

If the Customer reports service to be inoperative but declines to release it for testing and repair, it is considered to be impaired, but not interrupted. When Ethernet WAN Private Line Service is interrupted, the Customer will receive a credit allowance for that portion of the service provided by the Company which is affected.

b. Termination Charge

If the Customer chooses a term agreement and the term agreement is cancelled prior to the end of the period, a termination charge will apply. The termination charge will be the difference between the rates actually charged and the rates that would have been charged, had the actual period been the original service period. For example, if a Customer chooses a three-year term and completes less than three years, the Customer will be charged the difference between the amount the Customer was actually charged and the amount the Customer would have been charged according to the month to month rates for the period of time the Customer had service. If a Customer chooses a five-year term and completes less than three years, the Customer will be charged the month to month rate.
